Foundations Internship

Corporate Accountability stops transnational corporations from devastating democracy, trampling human rights, and destroying our planet. We are building a world rooted in justice where corporations answer to people, not the other way around -- a world where every person has access to clean water, healthy food, a safe place to live, and the opportunity to reach their full human potential.

We are deeply committed to prioritizing the leadership of those who bear the brunt of corporate abuse: women, people of color, low-income people, people in the Global South, and LGBTQ folks around the world. As such, these people are strongly encouraged to apply for our internships program.

Our internships are a unique opportunity for you to gain valuable campaigning and nonprofit experience, cultivate your interests in social justice, strengthen your understanding of a fast-paced campaign organization, and gain critical skills and experience. In the campaigns internship, you will intern alongside our dynamic, passionate campaigns team and learn skills such as action planning, power mapping, campaign research, media outreach, and fundraising. Interns will come away from the experience ready to apply these skills to the social change they want to see in their local communities or schools.

As the Research Intern you will support our organizers and researchers by conducting research and analysis needed to develop and implement our campaigns, particularly our Campaign Challenging Corporate Control of Water, our Campaign Challenging the Corporate Abuse of Our Food and our campaign challenging the World Bank’s promotion of water privatization.

Major Responsibilities:
- Compiling, summarizing and analyzing information for Corporate Accountability’s campaigns;
- Assisting with research reports, utilizing library, research and internet skills to gather needed information;
- Maintaining information tracking and monitoring systems, and assisting with special research projects;
- Responding to requests for information;
- Tracking and monitoring business publications and other sources for relevant developments.

Qualifications:
- Demonstrated commitment to corporate accountability and social justice;
• Excellent and effective written and oral communication skills, Spanish-language skills a plus;
• Experience in research, organizing, and/or advocacy at a campaign-oriented organization;
• Experience in fact-checking and editing;
• Experience in international finance, development and economics.
• Good organizational skills and the ability to juggle several tasks while meeting deadlines;
• Graduate level student or recent grad preferred

Details:
Location: Campaign headquarters, Boston, MA
Duration: Summer internships run from late May through mid-August.
Compensation: This is an unpaid internship. The organization will provide $250 for transportation for the summer program, and $200 for the Fall and Spring program. Current students are encouraged to seek out course credit and/or funding from their campus for their internship.
Training: Orientation and ongoing trainings will be provided by senior campaign staff. Exposure to campaign strategy, planning, and development continues throughout the term.

To Apply: Attach your resume to the online application, and please include a cover letter, where you heard about the position, and list three references. If you are having trouble uploading, please email your materials to Taggart Wass at internships [at] stopcorporateabuse [dot] org. Please indicate if you are applying for spring or summer in your cover letter.

Corporate Accountability is an equal opportunity employer and an inclusive organization. People of color, women, and LGBTQ people are strongly encouraged to apply.